

Cushman Dam up date 5/13/25

I had an unexpected meeting with 2 Pennoni engineers today at the dam. Jan sent me a text and stated they were there. Bob walked over and stayed with them until I got there. I asked them to notify us from now on when they are coming. A new engineer was there, and he is a structural engineer. Bob and I closed the gate so they could see where the water was coming from. They were both surprised how much water was coming up from the ground. Pennoni is supposed to have a fix by Friday. I want to know the cause. I have asked for the geological study and the date it was completed. We will be having a joint meeting early next week and hopefully we will have some answers. There will be minutes taken at that meeting. I have asked Steve N to post all emails between myself and Beth-Ann so you all can see we are working hard on this issue.

Thank You,
